Lady Michèle Renouf in Teheran: 'Mideast Peace Solution in SE Russia'

THE MODERN WORLD'S FIRST ZION is a story that needs to be brought to as many people as possible. This forgotten Manchurian paradise of "milk and honey" welcomes the world's Jews with open arms, unlike the Palestinian desert. This autonomous region was recently visited by the president of Russia, Dmitry Medvedev, himself probably of Jewish stock. The Birobidzhan option is a viable and equitable solution to the problem of Israel.

BY LADY MICHÈLE RENOUF

In the July 5th issue of AMERICAN FREE PRESS, Paul Craig Roberts, the former assistant secretary of the U.S. Treasury, writing after the Zionist lobby's inter-Jewish backbiting against veteran journalist Helen Thomas, insisted he did "not want Israel destroyed." Whereas Ms. Thomas suggested returning Israeli Jews to their old European haunts, Mr. Roberts made what he called the "rhetorical proposal to relocate Israelis in the U.S." Yet neither has been willing to state the obvious: that Israel at no time had any moral right to exist anywhere in Palestine.

(The living criminal blueprint for the Jewish state was drawn up by Theodor Herzl in 1895 when Adolf Hitler was aged 6, and World War II half a century away, and therefore irrelevant to the plan.)

As it happens there is a real, rather than rhetorical, alternative homeland option where the world's Jews could relocate in perfect safety. Here their security wall would be optional rather than a self-fulfilling credal projection of their anti-gentile identity. A homeland which has never provoked desperate suicide bombings or rocket attacks, since its creation did not involve mythic impostures of "God-given" privileged real estate, the genocidal blueprint for piracy of other people's ancestral land or their credally "authorized" displacement to besieged refugee camps.

The founding of this homeland predated the Zionist state by two decades. This Jewish Republic (in all but name) is the size of Switzerland. It still exists, and Yiddish is its first official language. What is officially called the Jewish Autonomous Region, though generally referred to by the name of its capital city Birobidzhan, it is located on Russia's southeastern border with China. It was created in 1928 during the early days of the former Soviet Union and formalized in 1934.

I have had the opportunity to speak about Birobidzhan on two occasions this year in very different though equally prestigious venues. These venues each owe their best ethics essentially to the Classical Greek scientific attitude. The House of Lords in London, Mother of Parliaments, still pur-veys the aura of centuries-old sovereign tradition, though sadly Zionist-occupied territory for the past century and a half. By contrast the Iranian presidential headquarters in Teheran is today the principal target of predatory Zionist envy and aggression against the success of the Khomeini revolution, which made Iran's economy and foreign policy off limits to international "greed is good"-oriented usurers.

On each occasion my public interventions on this subject were carefully monitored and commented on by the Community Security Trust (CST), the private army and intelligence organization of the UK's Jewish community. The CST was set up in 1994 by jailbird tycoon Gerald Ronson, the archetypal Jewish shtarker or “hard man,” who previously co-founded the “62 Group,” a thuggish gang specializing in brutal attacks on anti-Zionists in London and around the United Kingdom.

While the 62 Group’s hitmen often found themselves on the wrong side of the law, the increasing power of the Zionist lobby in recent decades is reflected in the enhanced status of Ronson’s newer Jewish security force. The CST is not only tolerated by the British authorities, the Home Office and UK police forces actively and openly assist their operations. Indeed they act as a privileged nationalist police force within another nation.

Earlier this year the CST found it “troubling” to note that I “was speaking to a meeting at the House of Lords, where [my] proposal was greeted with applause . . . to promote her campaign to have Jews relocate en masse to Birobidzhan, a Jewish autonomous region established in the eastern Soviet Union by Stalin in 1934.”

A few months later they were even more concerned, noting my impromptu address to a thousand international delegates gathered at President Ahmadinejad’s Teheran headquarters during the 4th International Conference on Imam Khomeini and Foreign Policy, organized by the Iranian Institute for Political and International Studies.

I used this invitation to propose—directly to President Ahmadinejad—Birobidzhan as a home for Israel’s Jews. It is a ready-made, common sense option and just conclusion to the rogue criminal occupation of Palestine.

As I explained to the assembled company: Indeed after 1928 European Jews had no need to pirate Palestine, and to this day a Jewish Autonomous Region called Birobidzhan exists peacefully and available on Russia’s southeast border with China, having never displaced an indigenous people for its creation. Today some Jews—for instance Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu’s PR officer during a live televised debate with me—try to claim that it was an act of anti-Semitism when Stalin gave this region of 30,000 square kilometers (the size of Switzerland) to Jews. The truth is that Stalin was providing every ethnic group comprising the Soviet Union with its own autonomous region, and nothing “anti-Semitic” has ever endangered Birobidzhan during its 82 autonomously Jewish, safe and peaceful years of existence.

Furthermore, in 1945, when secular European Jews were crying “we are a people without a homeland, Palestine is a land without a people,” again they lied, for in 1945 there was no political impediment to prevent European Jewry heading for the welcoming arms of their vast and long-established Jewish Autonomous Region in Birobidzhan.

The same is true today, yet in our mainstream media we hear not a word of Birobidzhan. Only rarely does the Jewish Telegraphic Agency (JTA) mention Birobidzhan, and when it does it refers to it disingenuously as a “district.” Which district in the world is the size of Switzerland? The fact is that since the dissolution of the Soviet Union, its ethnically autonomous regions have been entitled to republic status, yet the JTA lets us know that due to so-called “sensitivity” to Israel, Birobidzhan has declined, due to fear of raising gentile public awareness of its existence, to acknowledge its status as this first Jewish homeland, which is all but a state and republic. My hope is that our singularly upstanding President Ahmadinejad, who speaks the whole political truth bravely, will promote awareness of the first Jewish homeland and that there is no need for European Ashkenazim Jews to go back to Germany, Poland or Austria when they have their own state whose first language is Yiddish.

Please view my “first homeland” option and morale rearmament website at www.birobidjan.co.uk (also see www.jewishrepublic.com) for, in the spirit of Imam Khomeini, there you will find a campaign for moral and morale rearmament. The Palestinians whose Nakba constitutes the greatest and longest tragedy of the 20th century—those brave voters who democratically elected the long heroic Hamas—deserve the return of every inch of their tormented land, and not any part in the specious “one-state two-state” farce. The immediate vacation of European Jews from all of Palestine and compensation to the indigenous Arab people is more than overdue to those who, for more than a century, continue to fight for Reason at the front line of historical truth and international justice for all of us.

The CST warned its supporters: “Ahmadinejad’s response to Renouf’s plea is not known. But if the Iranian president does, at some point in the future, propose deporting Israeli Jews to Birobidzhan, you will know where he heard it first.”

So let me tell you, dear doughty readers of TBR. Eyeball to eyeball the dauntless president said in English, “you and me, we see it the same.”

That may be because Khomeini’s ongoing successful morale rearmament revolution is surprisingly like the key note of the courageous bishop, Richard Williamson, said: without historical truth there can be no international justice, and that “historical truth goes by evidence, not by emotion.”

The opposing predatory strategy of our international Zionist foe depends upon the flimsy bind that truth cannot matter to a man whose livelihood depends upon his not seeing it. Yet without a “prophecy come true” swindling line, the advertising mystique of the “Zionist Entity” can be readily undone. As Mr. Roberts points out, this charity state is “heavily dependent on U.S. largess.” So let’s just turn off the American taxpaying pipeline to the unworthy self-worshipping charity state of Israel, Mr. Roberts.

I would suggest that the existence of Birobidzhan is the non “anti-Semitic” option that is missing in everybody’s “one-state or two-state” farce.

However, as Mr. Roberts appears not to have seen through the credal incompatibility of Judaism with Palestinian equality, regrettably he returns to the consensually floundering inoperative “nice” fantasy of Zionism’s critics that “Israel should be moved or reformed.” But a “reformed Israel” is nothing but an oxymoron. Hasn’t he noticed that that Israel is the barbaric Old Testament made manifest? Israeli-born “ex-jew” Gilad Atzmon certainly has said—and he should know—that 97% of Israelis backed the “Operation Cast Lead” gratuitous terror upon the besieged impoverished Gazans. This proves that Old Testament-dedicated Israel is morally non-“reformable.” Let’s just dismantle this Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, the gutsy Iranian president, and Lady Michele Renouf of the TBR editorial board pose for a picture after Renouf was asked to make an impromptu address in Teheran at the presidential headquarters. This followed her address several weeks earlier on the same subject to the House of Lords in London, England. She urges the Jews of Israel to move out of the Palestinian homeland and to the Jewish autonomous region of Birobidzhan, southeast Russia—a place where Yiddish is the official language and ethnically and culturally the vast majority of today’s Israeli folk more naturally belong.

criminal entity and let Jewry live and let live in their Jewish Republic of Birobidzhan so that the Palestinians need no longer fight for Reason at the front line of historical truth and international justice for all of us. ♦
